Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

GENERAL PURPOSE

Our Vision

Welcome to the Fairhope Public Library (the Library or FHPL). The Library serves our community as a guide to worldwide information, a center for learning, and a source for leisure reading.

Our Mission

Our mission is to provide access to information to contribute to the intellectual, cultural, educational, and recreational life of the community. The Library serves all ages, encourages the love of reading and the pursuit of knowledge, and champions democracy by fostering the free exchange of ideas.

Governing Body

The responsibility for the direction of the Library and the establishment of its policies will belong to a Board of Trustees appointed by the Fairhope City Council. This Board will employ a Director to administer its policies.

OUR CORE VALUES

1. We believe that reading improves lives.
2. We believe that the library's chief purpose is to support the individual pursuit of knowledge and life-long learning.
3. We believe that the library should be an institution for civic exchange and a community forum for ideas.
4. We believe that the bedrock of library service is a collection of reliable sources, preserving the best from the past and keeping current with new discovery.
5. We believe that literacy and the ability to learn are basic tools of economic opportunity and personal success.
6. We are committed to children, youth, and their families.
7. We value our patrons, we respect them as individuals, and we benefit from the diversity of cultures they represent.
8. We believe that the freedom to read whatever one chooses is a right as profound as free speech. We defend that right and protect the privacy of a person's use of the library as a sacred trust.
9. We take pride in our responsiveness to community needs and individual interests.
10. We strive for equity of access to library services across Baldwin County.
11. We embrace electronic information sources as new tools for extending the library's usefulness.
12. We believe that our library is a community anchor, strengthening the community we serve and reflecting the culture of the citizens.
13. We believe that the library facility should provide space and surroundings conducive to learning as a reflection of the value our community places on education.

"BCLC WI-FI HOTSPOT LENDING POLICY"

- The Baldwin County Library Cooperative, Inc. (BCLC) has established a Wi-Fi hotspot lending program to provide patrons in our community with high-speed internet access. With this program, students can use the Internet for help with homework and projects, employees can travel with reliable internet access to meetings and presentations, and patrons can have home access to the library's digital resources such as our databases, eBooks, streaming music and movies. Patrons will be able to take advantage of our Wi-Fi hotspot lending program with any Baldwin County Public Library card.
- The Library is not responsible for any liability, damages or expense resulting from use or misuse of the device, connection of the device to other electronic devices, or data loss resulting from use of device. Any use of the device for illegal purposes, unauthorized copying of copyright protected material in any format, or transmission of threatening, harassing, defamatory or obscene materials is strictly prohibited. The hotspots are routinely monitored by our service provider, Mobile Beacon, and are CIPA compliant.
- Wi-Fi hotspots may be borrowed by Baldwin County Public Library adult card holders with library cards in good standing (i.e. library cards that are not blocked due to unpaid fines or lost material). Checkout is limited to one per household at any given time. The Library reserves the right to refuse service to patrons who abuse equipment or who are repeatedly late in returning electronic devices.
- Hotspots may be borrowed for 2 weeks. They must be returned in person to the Circulation Desk and never in the book drop. If damage to the device is discovered by Library staff, these costs will be added to the patron's account. The overdue cost for the item is $1.00 per day up to $5.00. If a hotspot is not returned, the borrower will be charged a $75 replacement cost. Three (3) late returns for any hotspot checkout will result in that patron losing hotspot borrowing privileges for 30 days. If returned late a fourth(4th) time, the patron will lose hotspot borrowing privileges for 6 months. After five (5) late returns, the patron will be banned from borrowing any hotspot devices for life.

Guidelines for Borrowing and Use

- Hotspots can only be checked out and returned to the circulation desk. DO NOT USE THE BOOK DROP.
- Borrowers must have a valid adult library card and be in good standing with the Library.

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

- Hotspots check out for fourteen days and can be renewed once as long as there is no one waiting on the holds list.
- Borrowers, along with a library staff member, will verify that all accessories are present at the time of checkout and check-in (case, device, power adapter, instructions).

Fines and Liability

- The overdue fine is $1.00 per day for a maximum of $5. When the hotspot reaches 24 hours past due it will be deactivated, rendering the device unusable.
- The borrower is responsible for the costs associated with damage or loss of the hotspot and all accessories due to neglect or abuse. The complete replacement cost for the hotspot is $75.

Proper Care and Use

- As with any electronic device, do not leave the hotspot in a hot vehicle for an extended period of time.
- Do not remove the sim card for any reason.
- If the hotspot prompts you to update its software you may accept. The software update should only take a few minutes.
- If your device displays a message that says, "Data Limit Reached," try turning the device off for a few minutes and then restart. Periodically, there will be heavy network congestion and you might have to wait until the congestion period is over before the device works properly.
- Do not leave the hotspot plugged in. Once it is fully charged, unplug it and let the battery run down before charging again. Please return the hotspot fully charged. Hotspots can only be checked out and returned to any Baldwin County Public Library circulation desk. DO NOT USE THE BOOK DROP.

COMPUTER AND INTERNET USE

PURPOSE

The fundamental mission of the Fairhope Public Library is to provide free and open access to informational, educational, recreational, and cultural resources to serve the diverse needs of Library patrons of all ages and backgrounds. The Library recognizes the vital role of technology in fulfilling that mission.

The Library provides free computer use and access to the Internet, the Library catalog, electronic databases, Microsoft Office, and other software applications and games. The Library also provides free wireless access to the Internet (Wi-Fi) for users who have their own computers or equipment with wireless connectivity. The Library will strive to accommodate the needs of persons with disabilities.

GENERAL RULES FOR USING COMPUTERS AND WIRELESS ACCESS AT THE LIBRARY

The following rules apply to users of all ages who are using a Library-owned computer or their own electronic device in the Library, on the Library grounds or by accessing the Library wireless network:

The Library balances the rights of users to access all types of informational resources with the rights of users and staff to work in a public setting free from disruptive sounds and visuals. The public areas of the Library are shared with Library users of all ages and staff. Individuals are expected to respect others when accessing information or images.

Patrons who use Library computers or their own electronic devices in the Library or its grounds or who connect to the Library Wi-Fi are required to abide by the Library's Computer and Internet Use Policy as well as any additional rules and/or time limits which are posted in the Library or its website. Use of any computer, electronic device or wireless connection at the Library constitutes acceptance of the policy and related procedures.

Anyone who engages in unacceptable use, whose computer use disrupts Library service, or who violates Library policies or procedures may have their Library and/or computer privileges suspended or terminated, or may be asked to leave the Library. The Library reserves the right to terminate computer or Internet access at any time and without notice.

Computers and the Internet network at the Library may only be used for lawful purposes.

- Transmission, viewing or printing of any material in violation of any federal, state or municipal statute or regulation is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to copyright material, threatening, obscene or pornographic material, and material protected by trade secret.
- Dissemination of obscene material or material which is harmful to minors is a misdemeanor in the state of Alabama as stated in Alabama Code 13a-12-200.3 and 13a-12-200.
- Dissemination or public display of obscene matter containing a visual depiction of a person less than 17 years of age involved in any act of sexual conduct is a Class B felony in the State of Alabama as stated in Alabama Code 13a-12-191.
- Engaging in any activity that is deliberately offensive or creates an intimidating or hostile environment is prohibited.
- Users will respect copyright laws and licensing agreements. Users may not copy or distribute electronic materials without the explicit permission of the copyright holder, except as permitted by the principles of fair use. Responsibility for any consequences of copyright infringement lies with the users. The Library expressly disclaims any liability or responsibility resulting from such use.

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

Downloading or uploading large amounts of data or streaming video may result in reduced bandwidth across the network, slowing Internet access for everyone. Users may be requested to stop downloads/uploads if circumstances warrant it. Users are cautioned that the Library's Internet connection is not secure. Users are warned that personal information included in all transactions and communications may be subject to unauthorized access by third parties. The Library will not be responsible for personal information that is compromised or for negative consequences resulting from security issues, viruses or hacking.

Wireless users are responsible for connecting their devices to the Library's wireless network and the Library cannot guarantee that a user's hardware will work with the Library's wireless connection. Library staff cannot adjust users' equipment or troubleshoot connection problems other than verifying that the Library's wireless network is running.

Tabletop electrical outlets are available in the reference area. Users may not plug into outlets where cords may create a hazard for other users. The Library is not responsible for any damages or malfunction of personal laptops or other equipment brought to the Library and users are responsible for keeping their equipment with them at all times.

Printing is available by logging on to the Library's public access computers (see COMPUTER USE POLICIES page 28). Mobile Printing is also available and the cost is the same as when using Library-Owned Computers.

Users are asked to keep distracting noise to a minimum:

- Users may not cluster around computers in a manner that creates an obstruction or creates noise that distracts others.
- Cell phone should be set to silent while in the Library. Cell phone conversations must not disturb staff or other users.
- Users must use their own headphones when listening to audio content on computers, and must keep the volume low enough to not disturb others.

INFORMATION REGARDING INTERNET ACCESS

UNACCEPTABLE USE OF INTERNET

Access to and use of the Library Internet is a privilege. Internet access should be used in a responsible and ethical manner consistent with the educational and informational purposes for which it is provided.

Unacceptable use includes, but is not limited to, the following purposeful, illegal and/or criminal activities:

- Using the Internet for any illegal or criminal purpose that violates local, state, or federal laws including, but not limited to, committing fraud, hacking, or engaging in communications which are libelous or slanderous.

INTERNET FILTERING

The Library complies with all federal, state, and municipal laws governing the use of computers in libraries, including the guidelines established by the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA).

As required by CIPA, in order to remain eligible for certain federal funding, the Library has implemented commercial filtering software on all of its Internet-accessible computer terminals.

The filtering software protects against access to visual depictions of obscenity, child pornography, and in the case of persons under the age of 18 years, materials that are "harmful to minors." The Library's wireless network is filtered for adults.

The Library does not guarantee that the filtering software will block all obscenity, pornography, or materials that are harmful to minors. Nor can the Library guarantee that the filtering software will allow access to all sites that may have legitimate research or other value. An authorized employee may disable the blocking or filtering measure to enable access to websites for bona fide research or other lawful purposes.

As with all Library resources, the Library affirms the right and responsibility of parents/legal guardians/adult caregivers, not Library staff, to determine and monitor children's use of the Internet and use of Library resources and facilities.

CHILDREN'S USE OF THE INTERNET

The Library is aware of parental and governmental concerns about child safety on the Internet. Accordingly the Library has put in place policies and procedures to ensure children have an enriching and safe online experience. The Library maintains a teen's and a children's webpage on its website and has designated preschool, children's and teen computers.

Parents, guardians and caregivers are encouraged to work with their children to develop acceptable rules for Internet use. It is their responsibility to set standards and guidelines and to decide which Library resources and websites are appropriate for their children. The Library has neither the right nor the responsibility to act in place of a parent, guardian, or caregiver, and assumes no responsibility for the use of the Internet by minors.

Youth under age 18 may access the Internet with their Library card, or by obtaining a visitor's pass. Ages 17 and under requires signed permission by an adult caregiver.

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

COMPUTER USE POLICIES

The following rules apply to patrons who are using Library-owned computers:

1. To ensure fair access for all users, the Library has installed software to manage computer reservations, time limits and printing. This system requires users to enter a valid Library card number from any Baldwin County Library or a visitor's pass number to access a computer.
2. Visitors may obtain a daily visitor's pass by showing a photo ID. Baldwin County residents who wish to access Library computers on a regular basis must obtain a Library card.
3. Any block on a user's Library card results in a denial of computer access. If access is denied, users must clear issues on their Library accounts before using a Library computer.
4. Youth under age 18 may access the Internet with their Library card, or by obtaining a visitor's pass. Ages 17 and under require a signed permission form from an adult caregiver to receive a guest pass. These forms are available from the Youth Services Department.
5. Users may not represent themselves as another person or use another person's Library card to access Library computers. Violations may result in loss of computer privileges.
6. Library computers are available on a first come, first served basis. When all computers are in use, reservations may be made for the next available computer.
7. Users may not view obscene or pornographic sites or view images of a prurient nature. If this type of image is accessed inadvertently, please turn off the monitor and notify the Library staff immediately so that the filter can be adjusted. Deliberate access will result in loss of computer privileges.
8. The Library's computers do not allow users to retain documents or personal files on the hard drive. All files are automatically deleted whenever the computers are shut down. Users may only temporarily save files to the desktop. Users should save their data and files using CDs, USB flash drives or other personal storage media or by emailing the files to themselves. The Library is not responsible for loss of data that may occur when the computers shut down, or damage to CDs/flash-drives resulting from the information downloaded, computer malfunction, or viral infection. Users are responsible for removing their temporary files from the computer before logging out.
9. All public workstations will shut down 10 minutes before the Library closes each day.
10. Users may not download or use their own software programs on Library computers without Library staff permission.
11. Users may not unplug, remove, modify or damage computer equipment or software in any way. Users may not attempt to reconfigure the system or interfere with the current system set-up.

13. In the interest of serving all users, the Library sets time limits on all workstations. The Library reserves the right to change the time limits at any time without notice. Time may be extended beyond the daily limit if several computers are available. Users must provide their Library card to have their time extended. Without a Library card, time may be extended once if the user shows photo ID. After that, the Library card must be shown or a new Library card obtained. Visitors must show photo ID to have daily passes issued.
14. Only staff are authorized to turn computers on and off. Users should end their computer session only and not turn off the computer when finished.
15. Computer stations are designed for one-person use. No more than one person may work at one computer at any given time in the adult computer area unless given special permission.

17. Library staff cannot provide extensive instructions to individual computer users. However, staff will provide assistance to patrons with questions about programs and equipment as time and knowledge permit.
18. The Library does not offer e-mail accounts. Users may access their own web-based e-mail accounts.

DISCLAIMER

The Library does not endorse the viewpoints or vouch for the accuracy of information obtained through the Internet. The Library cannot control or monitor material which may be accessible from Internet sources, nor is the Library responsible for changes in content of the sources to which it links, or for the content of sources accessed through the secondary links.

Library patrons use the Internet at their own risk. Individual users must accept responsibility for determining which electronic resource they will access and the relative value of the content. Since the Internet is not secure, each user accepts personal and financial responsibility for information transmitted or received. In the case of minors, it is a joint responsibility of the user and the parent, guardian, or caregiver. The Library, unlike schools, does not serve in place of a parent. Library staff cannot act in place of parents by supervising children as they explore the Internet. The responsibility of what minors read or view on the Internet rests with parents, guardians, or caregivers.

Each user agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Fairhope Public Library, the Board of Trustees, the Director, the staff, and the City of Fairhope from any claims resulting from his or her use of the Internet at the Library.

PRINTING, COPYING, FAXING AND SCANNING

1. Printing is available using the Library's print management system from the public-access computers. Patrons must ask for employee assistance when using their own paper for printing. The Library is not responsible for unwanted pages or incorrectly formatted printouts. Mobile Printing is also available and the cost is the same as when using Library-Owned Computers.

This statute is broadly written, using the term, "reproducing equipment" and can include library photocopiers, scanners, computers, 3D printers, and other reproducing equipment. The Reference and User Services Association (RUSA), a division of ALA, suggests the following language to be displayed on or near reproducing equipment as required in subsection 108(f)(1): The copyright law of the United States (Title 17 U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. The person using this equipment is liable for any infringement. In accordance with this suggestion, FHPL will post the above notice on all reproducing equipment to notify patrons of potential liability.

DIGITAL VIDEO SECURITY CAMERA POLICY

Security cameras will be used where needed to discourage violations of the Library's Patron Behavior Policy, to assist Library staff in preventing the recurrence of any violations and, when necessary, to provide law enforcement assistance in prosecuting criminal activity. The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for the placement and use of digital video cameras, as well as the access and retrieval of recorded digital video images at the Fairhope Public Library.

Video monitoring and recording will be conducted in a manner consistent with all existing local and applicable laws and ordinances.

Cameras may be installed in locations where staff and patrons would not have an expectation of privacy. Examples include common areas of the Library such as entrances, near book and media collections, public seating, service desks and the building perimeter.

Cameras will not be installed in areas where staff and public have a reasonable expectation of privacy, such as restrooms.

PROCEDURES

1. Digital video security cameras are installed in selected indoor and outdoor locations at the Library.
2. A sign will be posted at Library entrance informing the public that security cameras are in use.
3. Selected staff will have access to the real time monitors, although activity is only randomly monitored. The Director may appoint additional staff to manage and access the video recordings when necessary.
4. In pursuit of incidents of criminal activity or violation of the Library's Patron Behavior Policy, only the Director or his/her designee(s) will have access to the archived material.
5. Video recordings and photos obtained through the video monitoring system will be released only in response to search warrants, court orders, and requests by law enforcement for an active investigation.
6. Images will typically be retained for a period determined by the storage capacity of the equipment, usually about 30 calendar days. As new images are recorded, the oldest images will be automatically deleted.
7. Selected digital video may be saved for as long as required.

GUIDELINES

1. Staff and patron safety are the first priorities in any threatening situation. The protection of Library property is of secondary importance.
2. Cameras will not be installed for the express purpose of monitoring staff performance.
3. The general public will not be allowed access to camera images.
4. Questions from the public may be addressed to the Director.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

The overall purpose of the Library is to serve all of the citizens of the community by offering the services, resources and facilities to fulfill their informational, educational, and recreational needs and interests.

The Library shall strive to:

- Assemble, preserve, and administer resources within the framework of its budget and available space, in order to promote an enlightened citizenship and enrich personal lives.
- Supply a core collection to meet the community's need for basic information and standard, classic works.
- Initiate activities that will encourage the most effective use of these selected materials.
- Facilitate universal, life-long learning for the general reader
- Integrate new technologies into the collection
- Maintain local history materials unique to Fairhope.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

The Library serves a heterogeneous community of 23,147 citizens. The largest percentage of the community is Caucasian/White (89.7%), with the percentages of other races showing decreases in recent years. According to the 2020 census, 5.1% of the population is Black, 4.7% Hispanic, and less than 2% Asian.

Educational levels of the citizens show Fairhope to have a larger percentage of college graduates than other communities in Baldwin County, and to have a larger number of citizens over 65. The median age in the 2020 census was 42.4 years. Fairhope has been known for several decades as a retirement community; however, the 2020 census showed 26.1% of the population is under 18, while the "over 65" population is 23.0%.

The Library realizes that the community is composed of persons who are diverse in interests, educational backgrounds, and native abilities. In order to meet the variety of needs of these persons, the Library must build a collection, which contains resources suitable to such a diverse group, within the limitations of budget, space, and availability of materials.

The Library has a number and variety of outside resources available. A major city library is within 30 minutes of our Library. Our Library also serves college students who attend classes on local campuses. We have access through a countywide cooperative to other public libraries and their collections in the county, and through Interlibrary Loan access to libraries throughout the state, region, and nation.

RESPONSIBILITY AND AUTHORITY

The final responsibility and authority for materials selection rests with the Library Director, who operates within a framework of policies adopted by the Library Board of Trustees.

The staff of the Library will be active in materials selection, using their knowledge of the collection and the needs of the community, and their critical judgment of resources available.

All selectors must keep personal biases and interests out of decision-making.

All selectors must keep in mind two concepts:

- Community needs should drive selection
- Providing a balanced, sustainable collection is our priority.

NATURE OF MATERIALS

The Library offers print, non-print and electronic materials. Since people communicate and learn in different ways, the Library does not limit itself to the print medium and offers access to a variety of media and resources. The Library recognizes that the technologies of sound, image and electronic databases continue to evolve and continually explores all new formats in order to offer current technology within our collection.

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

The presence of materials within the Library should not be construed as a personal endorsement of their contents by any staff, the Library Director, the Library Board of Trustees, or the City Council. The Library has a responsibility to collect resources expressing a variety of views and opinions, many of which the persons responsible for maintaining the Library collection may find personally unacceptable.

The Library recognizes that many materials are controversial and that any given item may offend some patrons. The Library believes that individuals have the freedom to accept or reject an item from the library's collection for their personal use. Responsibility for what children read rests with parents and/or legal guardians, not the library. Selection will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may inadvertently come into the possession of children. Selections will be made on the merits of the work in relation to the developing of the collection and the interests of the community.

Certain items are not generally purchased for the collection. These include:
Archival materials, textbooks, collectors items, and encyclopedias

LEGACY COLLECTION

The purpose of the Legacy Collection is to preserve rare and fragile materials of significance to the legacy of the Fairhope Public Library and the Eastern Shore.

Select materials that were part of the library's original collection are to be preserved. These would include materials that were in the catalog in the 1902 or 1911 editions of the Fairhope Public Library catalog. This collection does not circulate.

If there are any duplicate titles across collections, then they will be considered for removal. If the book contains mold, is falling apart to a severe degree, or has pages coming out from the original binding, then they will not be included in this collection. The copies in the best physical condition will be retained while others may be discarded.

Titles written by local authors or contain material pertinent to the local area may not necessarily qualify them for inclusion in the Legacy Collection. If the book has an older publishing date, but does not uphold significance to the Fairhope region, library, or community, then the book will not be considered. If the books are pertinent to local history and physically able to circulate but not tied to the library's history or Fairhope, then they will be considered for the Alabama History Collection instead. If they are recent titles that aren't rare or hard to obtain then those titles may be more suitable to the Alabama History, Fiction, or Nonfiction collections for circulation to the public.

PATRON REQUESTS FOR PURCHASE:

The Library welcomes patron interest in the collection and will seriously consider all requests for specific materials. The Library is under no obligation to fill any particular request if not deemed suitable to the collection, and/or depending on budget appropriations. A patron who has a suggestion for a specific item to be purchased should fill out a "Suggestion for Purchase" form. See Appendix E for sample request form.

REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION OF MATERIALS

The controversial nature of materials shall not be deemed a sufficient reason for removal unless and until the material has been subjected to a full formal review as outlined as follows:

Because tastes and opinions differ, some resources the Library acquires may be offensive to some patrons. Neither the majority nor minority have the right to curtail free access by anyone to published material. If, however, a patron objects to material held by the Library, he or she may submit a Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials Form (see Appendix F).

In no instance will material be removed on demand. All considerations of request to remove materials will be reviewed using the principles of this selection policy statement as a guide.

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

In order to have their request considered, the patron must:

- Be a resident of Baldwin County
- Be a current registered borrower of a Baldwin County Library
- Read/listen/view the material in its entirety.
- Submit the required form (one title, one form) to the Library Director
- Supply his or her full name and address. Anonymous complaints will not be considered.

After the complaint is received, the Library Director will review the reasons for the complaint and the material in question.

If the patron is not satisfied with the Director's action, the patron may request that the Library Board review the material. The decision of the Library Board shall be final. The decision on each title will remain in effect for five (5) years.

Please refer to Appendix A to review our commitment to the Library Bill of Rights.

DONATION OF MATERIALS

The library gratefully accepts donations of books and other materials provided they meet the Library's collection development policies and procedures, and, in the opinion of the professional staff, they enhance the value of the Library's collection.

Donated materials may or may not become a part of the Library's collection according to collection development policies.

FHPL does not accept unsolicited items for donation directly from an author, publishing house, distributor, or other company or individual, including books written or published by said person or entity. The Library will use third-party review sources to evaluate material an author wishes to donate to the library or requests that the Library purchase. Selection of these materials will be based on the quality of these reviews and their sources. Weight is given to publications such as Publishers Weekly, Book List, Library Journal, School Library Journal, and Kirkus Review.

If an author's work is selected by the library based on the quality and quantity of third-party reviews, book-signings or other programs hosted by an author are at the discretion of Programming Staff and the Director.

Disposition of donated materials, not meeting this selection criteria, shall be at the discretion of the Library Director. Due to the high volume of donations the library will not be able to return donated items if it is decided that it will not be added to the collection. There is a form to complete describing the patrons' donations and their intentions with the donation, i.e. add to the collection, given to the Friends of the Fairhope Public Library to be sold in a sale or at the book store (see Appendix K).

A receipt acknowledging any donation of materials will be provided upon request (see Appendix D). The Library does not accept responsibility for assigning a dollar value to such materials.

Items must be in good/excellent condition and free of odor, mold and infestation. Items that are dirty, damaged, marked, torn or otherwise in poor condition will not be accepted.

If the donated item is not added to the Library's collection, it will be given to the Friends of the Fairhope Library, a support group of the Library, for resale in their book store or book sales. Funds raised through these sales will be used to purchase special items for the Library or to fund special library programs. Items not sold by the Friends may be donated to other groups or recycled.

OTHER DONATIONS

The library will also accept monetary donations, memorials and honorariums.

The Director will send letters to patrons/friends who give monetary donations, which are tax deductible.

The Circulation Assistant will provide forms for memorials and honorariums. It is helpful if you supply the designee's preferences (i.e., favorite genre, author, collection, etc.)

Fairhope Public Library Policies

Rev. 2024

MAINTENANCE OF THE COLLECTION

The collection will be periodically examined for the purpose of weeding, inventory, or repair of materials to maintain and balance a timely and appealing collection. Reasons for withdrawal of materials are:

- Poor physical condition
- Obsolete and inaccurate information
- Lack of reader interest as evidenced by circulation statistics
- Duplicates not justified by demand
- Items that do not meet current selection criteria.

DESELECTION PLAN

Assignment of responsibility

- Responsibility for weeding, evaluating, and selecting materials in the Library Collection is assigned to the Library Director, who may delegate duties to the Department Heads.

Weeding process

- Circulation statistics will be gathered for the library collection.
- Administration will determine section to be weeded.
- Weeding will be done according to the book, The Crew Method Expanded Guidelines for Collection Evaluation and Weeding for Small and Medium-Sized Public Libraries, (rev. ed.) by Belinda Boon.
- All items that are to be discarded will be pulled from the shelf and stamped as “withdrawn.”
- Technical Services will withdraw items from the OPAC.
- Withdrawn materials will be offered for the Friends of the Library online book dealer.
- Withdrawn materials may be made available for free to patrons of the Library.

Evaluation Process

- Strengths and weaknesses of the section will be determined.
- Standard sources and lists will be compared to existing collection to determine gaps, weak areas, and important works missing from collection.
- Select and order replacements. Compare the weeded books that were set aside for replacement with titles in recent editions of collection bibliographies and indexes for possible newer titles.

Selection Process

- We believe that “selection is the heart of collection development.”
- Priorities will be observed in the selection of replacement of resources. (see page 41)
- Reviews will be read for evaluative guidance in selection: journals, dedicated subscriptions, etc. (see page 41)
- Using priorities set in “Evaluation Process” (see above) and available lists of recommended resources, current available items will be selected for purchase.
- Selection will be patron driven.
- Special attention will be paid in adding those resources needed to meet the Standards for Public Libraries as set out by the Alabama Public Library Service.

APPENDIX A LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

- I. Books and other Library resources should provide for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the Library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
- II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
- III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
- IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
- V. A person's right to use a Library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
- VI. Libraries that make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996.

A history of the Library Bill of Rights is found in the latest edition of the Intellectual Freedom Manual.

Although the Articles of the Library Bill of Rights are unambiguous statements of basic principles that should govern the service of all libraries, questions do arise concerning application of these principles to specific Library practices. APPENDIX B FREEDOM TO READ STATEMENT

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for new Ideas and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that Idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The idea of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are safer, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one; the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are major channels by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

APPENDIX C LABELING AND RATING SYSTEMS

An Interpretation of the LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms the rights of individuals to form their own opinions about resources they choose to read, view, listen to, or otherwise access. Libraries do not advocate the ideas found in their collections or in resources accessible through the library. The presence of books and other resources in a library does not indicate endorsement of their contents by the library. Likewise, providing access to digital information does not indicate endorsement or approval of that information by the library. Labeling systems present distinct challenges to these intellectual freedom principles.

Labels may be a library-sanctioned means of organizing resources or providing guidance to users. They may be as simple as a colored dot or strip of tape indicating reference books or fiction or as elaborate as the Dewey Decimal or Library of Congress call number systems.

Labels as viewpoint-neutral directional aids are intended to facilitate access by making it easier for users to locate resources. Users may choose to consult or ignore the directional aids at their own discretion. Viewpoint-neutral directional labels are a convenience designed to save time. These are different in intent from attempts to prejudice, discourage, or encourage users to access particular library resources or to restrict access to library resources. Labeling as an attempt to prejudice attitudes is a censor's tool. The American Library Association opposes labeling as a means of predisposing people's attitudes toward library resources.

Prejudicial labels are designed to restrict access, based on a value judgment that the content, language, or themes of the resource, or the background or views of the creator(s) of the resource, render it inappropriate or offensive for all or certain groups of users. The prejudicial label is used to warn, discourage, or prohibit users or certain groups of users from accessing the resource. Such labels sometimes are used to place materials in restricted locations where access depends on staff intervention.

Directional aids can also have the effect of prejudicial labels when their implementation becomes proscriptive rather than descriptive. When directional aids are used to forbid access or to suggest moral or doctrinal endorsement, the effect is the same as prejudicial labeling. Even well-intentioned labels may have this effect.

Prejudicial labeling systems assume that the libraries have the institutional wisdom to determine what is appropriate or inappropriate for its users to access. They presuppose that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. The American Library Association opposes the use of prejudicial labeling systems and affirms the rights of individuals to form their own opinions about resources they choose to read, view, listen to, or otherwise access.

The library gratefully accepts donations of books and other materials provided they meet the Library's collection development policies and procedures, and, in the opinion of the professional staff, they enhance the value of the Library's collection.

Donated materials may or may not become a part of the Library's collection according to collection development policies. Disposition of donated materials not meeting this selection criteria, shall be at the discretion of the Library Director.

Due to the high volume of donations, the library will not be able to return donated items if it is decided that they will not be added to the collection.

A receipt acknowledging any donation of materials will be provided upon request. The Library does not accept responsibility for assigning a dollar value to such materials.

Items must be in good/excellent condition and free of odor, mold and infestation. Items that are dirty, damaged, marked, torn or otherwise in poor condition will not be accepted.

If the donated item is not added to the Library's collection, it will be given to the Friends of the Fairhope Library, a support group of the Library, for resale in their book store or book sales.
